“There are more than just one brand in you. [...] My strategy is to be ultra specific and then repeat.”

- Virgil Abloh

This strategy will destroy many fears and things holding me back, like:

- Removes my fear of failure
- Build & test designs & niches

- Taiyo is consistent
- Test out different marketing strategies
- No emotional attachment
- It becomes a challenge/game

Process:

I created a document and a spreadsheet to write down my theory, hypothesis & the list of materials. Then I gave out different strategies for the different sub-brands, including offers & automation processes. Then the practical things had to be done, like setting up the accounts, Setting up Email, Manufacture & creating a quick logo before the experiment could begin. Then setting up the accounts with the Instagram Course. From there I post every 4 hours from the tik tok format that is the most trendy (Search: Clothing Brand & Select "Last 24 hours" & "Most liked").
